

Are you Gold, Silver or Bronze?

At each report, your teachers are asked to assess your Attitude To Learning (ATL). For each grade you are given these points:

Excellent	1	An average is then taken across all of your subjects. Students with an ATL score of better than 1.8 are the successful ones at GCSE.
Good	2
Needs to Improve	3
Cause for Concern	4

What are Stringer Learning Awards?

Stringer Learning Awards celebrate your positive Attitude To Learning. They reflect how keen you are to participate in class, the enthusiasm and effort you put into your lessons and your homework and that you always take responsibility for your learning and improving every day.

Learning Awards are given based on your ATL score, as long as you have no grades of 'Cause for Concern'.

PLATINUM	ATL score of 1.0	25 achievement points
GOLD	ATL score of 1.4 or better	20 achievement points
SILVER	ATL score of 1.5 or better	10 achievement points
BRONZE	ATL score of 1.7 or better	5 achievement points

“When I wasn't doing well, I told myself I didn't care, but my parents were proud of me when I got a Bronze Award and it felt good to be improving.”

“I always did what I was told but only got Good for my ATL. Now I'm pushing myself to ask questions and help others, I have started to get Excellent in many subjects.”

“I'm keeping my Gold Award to help me when applying to be a prefect, as well as for college interviews and job applications.”

“I worried about looking keen to learn and couldn't understand why some people didn't seem to mind getting answers wrong. But once I understood that you have to make mistakes to learn, I started feeling happier in lessons. Now my ATL score is much better and so are my grades.”
